

CANTATA FOR CHRISTMAS ON SUNDAY EVENING

Large Choir of Third Street M. E. Church Will Sing "The Salvation of Israel" on Next Sunday Evening.

"The Salvation of Israel," Christmas cantata by Wilson will be sung by the choir of the Third Street M. E. church next Sunday evening. About twenty-five voices accompanied by piano, cornet, saxophone, clarinet and trombone will render the work. The soloists will be Mrs. Albert Ogden, Mrs. O. B. Antle, Miss Phoebe Huron, and Messrs. R. B. Huff and Sam Carpenter. Accompaniment, Miss Jennie Blythe.

The cantata consists of twelve numbers as follows:
"Seek Ye Out of the Book," bass solo by Mr. Huff, with choir.
"Thou Blessed Bethlehem," solo by Mrs. Ogden.
"Blessed Be the Lord God of Israel," Choir.

"Midnight in Her Dusky Mantle," soprano solo by Mrs. Antle, tenor solo by Mr. Carpenter; obligato soprano and tenor parts accompanied by choir.
"And There Were Shepherds," Choir.
"Chiming Bells," soprano and alto duet accompanied by male quartet.
"The Adoration of the Wise Men," Choir.

"A Lullaby," soprano obligato by Miss Huron with choir.
"Christ the Lord is Born," choir with bass solo by Mr. Huff.
"My Shepherd and My King," Choir.
"Nights of Nights," soprano solo Miss Huron, soprano and alto duet, Messrs. Huron and Richardson, obligato duet with choir.
"Rejoice, O, Earth," final chorus by choir.

The story of Israel's hope for a Savior, and its glorious fulfillment in the coming of Jesus is most beautifully told in this cantata. Christmas is a time for music. All Christmas programs this year are filled unusually full of the Christmas carols that have been sung for years. At the league service which just precedes the cantata a Christmas carol program will be given. These two services, one of the time-honored carols, the other of one of the best of the new cantatas, will make a Christmas program of unusual merit. The church invites all members and friends to come.

"PHILOSOPHER OF LIFE" TO LECTURE HERE TONIGHT

Harold Morton Kramer Famous in Europe and America as Lecturer and Student, to Speak at High School.

The third number of the Maysville High School Lyceum course at the High School auditorium Wednesday evening will be a lecture by Harold Morton Kramer, known as "The Philosopher of Life."

Harold Morton Kramer is a lecturer, novelist, soldier, journalist, and traveler. He is the author of the following books, "With Seeing Eyes," "The Rugged Way," "The Chrysalis," "The Castle of Dawn," "Heart and the Cross," and "Gayle Langford," all published by Lothrop, Lee & Shepard, Boston, from whom any of them may be obtained. Of him the Lyceum Magazine says: "He is iron and gold inside. He has studied both books and men. Few men of his age have had the preparation for the platform that Kramer has." He has had an unusually wide experience in life, both in America and Europe, has been on the lecture platform twelve years, was three times chosen President of the Department of Lecturers of the International Lyceum and Chautauqua Association, and is listed in that famous volume of America's notables, "Who's Who in America." He is a clear thinker, a forceful speaker, and all of his lectures are filled with humor.

LIQUOR THEFT IS SETTLED BY PAY- MENT OF FINES

Law and Facts Submitted in Cases Against Men Charged With Stealing Liquor From People's Burg Store.

Hon. Frank P. O'Donnell acted as special judge in the Mason Circuit Court late Tuesday afternoon when the indictments against Dr. W. C. Crowell, H. L. Walsh and Henry Fields, were called.

It will be remembered that these men were indicted for the removal of a large quantity of whiskey from a vault in the Peoples' Drug store several months ago to the office of Mr. Walsh, adjoining the drug store building, where local police discovered Mr. Walsh with the liquor. Dr. Crowell was located some time afterwards in his office in the Peoples' drug building and Fields was arrested the following day on information.

Three joint indictments were returned in the case, but upon agreement with Commonwealth's Attorney B. S. Grannis, only one of the indictments was called for trial Tuesday and upon motion of the commonwealth the indictment was reduced to a misdemeanor and the law and facts being submitted and pleas of guilty being entered, Acting Judge O'Donnell assessed a fine of $800 against Dr. Crowell, $500 against Mr. Walsh and $200 against Henry Fields all of which were promptly paid.

The other indictments were dismissed upon motion of the commonwealth and thus the case is ended.

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS MUSICAL PROGRAM AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Candle Service at First Baptist Church On Sunday Evening to be Beautiful and Impressive.

Sunday night at 7:15 there will be a special Christmas musical program at the Baptist church.

This will take the form of a candle service—women clad in white and bearing candles will sing some of the old English carols.

The program is expected to be beautiful and impressive. Miss Margaret Smith and Mr. George Schneider have it in charge which guarantees its success.

Everybody cordially invited to attend.

Educational Campaign Results in Subscription of $1,126,431—Center To Profit.

A total of $1,126,431 was subscribed to the Kentucky Presbyterian Educational Movement during the campaign which closed yesterday, according to the Rev. Dr. R. T. Gillespie, chairman of the united commission. The success of the drive assures Centre College a fund of $200,000 to be donated by the General Educational Board of New York.

The board's gift to the college was based on the condition that Kentuckians subscribe $1,000,000, of which Centre is to get $300,000.

Other institutions which will benefit as the result of the successful campaign are the Presbyterian Orphanage at Anchorage, the Kentucky College for Women, the Mountain Mission Schools and the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Louisville.

A committee which will further Christian education work of the church in Kentucky has been appointed.

XMAS BOOZE TAKEN IN RAID AT WASHINGTON

Prohibition Agent and Deputy Sheriff Obtain Moonshine Liquor at Homes of Two Colored Men at Washington.

In a raid just before noon Wednesday Federal Prohibition Agent Harry A. Ott and Deputy Sheriff Conrad P. Rapp obtained a quantity of moonshine liquor, mash and two large fermenters at the homes of two colored men in the town of Washington.

The home of Watt Moore, colored, was first visited by the officers. They were compelled to force the door to gain an entrance and as the officers entered Moore's wife poured the contents of a half gallon fruit jar into a three gallon bucket of water sitting just inside the door. The jar had contained moonshine liquor. A pint of the liquor was found and Moore was arrested and brought to the local jail on a charge of possessing liquor.

At the home of Garrett Holmes a quart fruit jar and a half gallon glass jar of moonshine liquor was found as well as a quantity of liquor mash in a galvanized tub and two twenty gallon fermenters.

A search of both houses failed to reveal a moonshine still. Holmes was not at home but Federal warrants will be issued for his arrest if he is not apprehended today.

NEPTON POSTOFFICE WAS ROBBED LAST THURSDAY

Sneak Thieves Steal Cash From Fleming County Postoffice Early Thursday Evening.

The Fleming Gazette says: Last Thursday evening between 5 and 7 o'clock the postoffice at Nepton was robbed of $200 which was evidently taken from the cash drawer while the postmaster, E. W. Roby, was at his supper. The discovery was made when in the evening Mr. Roby counted up his cash and found it $200 short.

The supposition is that the thief had prepared for the coup by opening a fastening to a near window. Then when Mr. Roby locked the store and went to supper the intruder climbed through and made his haul. Foot tracks on the ground outside and finger marks on the dust inside indicated this.

As soon as Mr. Roby discovered the robbery he got into communication with Capt. Mullikin of Lexington and next morning the latter brought down his blood hounds, which were used in an effort to get a clew to the guilty party.

The belief is that local talent did the job. The dog was put on the trail where it started from the window and ran to Ewing, where the trail was lost. No definite clew was obtained.

REAL SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS IN GREAT PAGEANT

Choir of First M. E. Church, South, Plans Great Music With Pageant Friday Evening.

The real spirit and soul of Christmas will be portrayed in the pageant to be given at the First M. E. Church, South, Friday evening.

The adoration of the Christ child by the shepherds, kings and angels is the principal theme.

The angels carrying lighted candles announce the beginning of the pageant. Following them, come the shepherds who were "watching their flocks by night," and saw the wonderful star. Then the kings in their stately grandeur bring their presents to lay at the feet of Mary. Finally in the culmination of the pageant, little children march up with their gifts for the Holy Child.

During these scenes beautiful and appropriate music is rendered by a special choir, making an ensemble impressive and magnificent.

At this time when we are inclined to elevate Santa Claus above the real source and inspiration of Christmas, it is well to recreate and reincarnate the Christ child as the origin of Christmas in the Christian world.

The public, no matter of what church or creed is invited to be present.

BERNHARDT IS AGAIN STRICKEN.

Paris, Dec. 19.—"My son insists that I take a rest, but for me rest means death."

The immortal Sarah Bernhardt, stricken as she was about to appear in Sacha Guitry's new play at the Edward VII Theater, thus defied the entreaties of friends that she abandon the stage and spend the years that are left her in ease and comfort.

Her physicians after an anxious night, issued a bulletin at 11 a. m. today which said:

"The crisis fortunately passed quickly, but Mrs. Bernhardt demands absolute rest for a few days and complete isolation."

This was signed by Drs. Desnos and Obissier.

ELECTRIC SHOP
OF MAYSVILLE GAS CO.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—A new provision that Congress shall meet annually on the second Monday in March would be very simple, suggests the Republican Publicity Association. "The proposed plan to have Congress meet on the first Monday in January, and the Presidential inauguration to be held quarterly on the third Monday of the same month will create many complications, necessitate considerable amending of the Constitution and may end nowhere."

"The Constitution provides that Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day." But Representatives hold office for two years from the 4th of March succeeding their election. Senators are elected for six years, and the President and Vice President are chosen for four years. All of this is provided for by the Constitution, and the present incumbents of those offices can have their terms curtailed only by Constitutional amendment. The proposed plan is for the purpose of insuring change of legislative and administrative control from two to two and half months after elections have been held. To have the change occur on the second Monday in March would mean a delay in the end sought of but two months at the outside. The successful candidates would have about four months to cool off after a campaign wherein passion and prejudice might have gained ascendancy over reason. That is not too long, and it is a great improvement over the 12 months now required before a new Congress convenes, unless an extra session is called. Therefore the second Monday in March for the annual convening of Congress ought to be the compromise date, as it is the most reasonable date, and the most simplified method of making haste slowly in responding to the wishes of the electorate.

"The original provision, when the Constitution was before the Convention, August 17th, 1787, provided for the first Monday in December as the date for the convening of Congress, but Randolph suggested the alternative, seconded by Madison, and adopted by a vote of 8 to 2. Morris and Madison wanted May inserted instead of December because measures in Europe were planned in the winter and we received intelligence of them in the spring, and December was an inconvenient season for travel. Elsworth thought summer would interfere too much with private business. Randolph thought the times of elections in the states would 'suit better with December than May,' and it was 'advisable to render our innovations as little incongruous as possible.' May was lost by 8 to 2."

"Improved transportation and methods of communication of which the Constitutional Fathers never dreamed, make their discussion of the subject then seem amusing today. But their consideration of large Constitutional questions suffers not a bit by comparison with some we hear today—more frequently the logic of the framers make the apocryphes of the 'New Freedom' sound like something out of Bedlam. They had the foresight to make it possible to change the date of the meeting of Congress. They said nothing about changing the date of inauguration of the President. The probabilities are that a chance to March for Congress would meet with their approval today, and we should stick to their idea of rendering our innovations as little incongruous as possible."

COMMENT

The Lexington Herald suggests that if a state bird is to be adopted, the Kentucky Cardinal be officially selected. We record the motion. The bird has been made famous by James Lane Allen and the Maysville Boys' Band.

Be careful. Remember that Christmas is just around the corner and the greatest calamity and the meanest sort of feeling is to remember on Christmas that you have forgotten one of your best friends. Don't forget and don't put it off too long or you will be certain to forget.

One of the things most people put off until the last minute is to tell Old Santa Claus to bring a Christmas tree to your house this year. Better attend to it at once. A few years ago there was a shortage of the little evergreens in Maysville.

The best press agent we know anything about is the fellow or group of fellows who look after Sarah Bernhardt's front page stuff. They are certainly past masters of the art. Sarah made some half dozen farewell trips to America and, according to the press dope, she has been drawn back from the veil of death at least a half-dozen times in the past twelve months.

We men folks will be terribly disappointed if we don't get the usual supply of socks, neckties and cigars this Christmas.

There was nothing familiar about the picture of a part of the wreck of the old steamer Tacoma in a Cincinnati newspaper yesterday but merely the name and the picture of twisted steel brought a lump into the throat. It was as recalling the passing of an old friend to many of those who have been familiar with the river for the past quarter century.

Our Daily Poem

CROSSING THE BAR.

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no mourning of the bar
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark.

For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

New York Letter

By Lucy Jeanne Price

Now York — Nothing has happened lately in Eastern Club circles, among the patriotic women of the country, and especially in New York society, more interesting than the announcement of the candidacy of Mrs. William Cummings Story for the position of President General of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She has been known for years to the public as the "Purple Lady of Patriotism." This position rose from her penchant for purple in attire, never being seen in any other color, and the fact that she has probably been identified in an important capacity in more American patriotic endeavors than any other woman in the country. Mrs. Story was President General of the D. A. R. for two successive terms, from 1913 to 1917. During those unsettled days she stood for a militant policy of preparedness, and in so doing brought down the wrath of the pacifist agitators upon her. She now has succeeded to a demand from a large portion of the membership that she go before the Daughters again for the same honor, declaring that the policy of the Society has not sustained the work she undertook during her incumbency, and warning the membership that there is a greater work of preparedness against the danger of radicalism than ever existed in her old fighting days. The fight she will wage for election will eclipse any other woman's activity during the coming months.

It doesn't help a dog out much to belong to a family of wealth. His troubles are as bitter as those of the tenements. Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt was one of the eleven dog owners fined $1 each in court the other day for permitting her pet to go unmuzzled. She arranged for the payment of fine all right, so the dog wasn't put in jail, but he can go free of muzzle no more.

—NY—
What our street cleaners will do when the last vehicle has been motorized, I can't imagine. The "white wings" never off their little pushcarts before they start out. Probably the city doesn't supply the grease for them. But they have a simple way of getting it when the wheels begin to creak too mournfully. Getting caught in a traffic stop at a corner, they maneuver their carts to the side of some horse drawn truck and with a stick dig out the excess of grease from the hub of the larger vehicle and smear it on their own axes.

—NY—
The much looked-forward-to production of "Romeo and Juliet," with Ethel Barrymore, will open at the Longacre Theater, December 27, according to announcement. Just made by its producer, Arthur Hopkins, McKay Morris will be the Memo and Mercutio will be played by Basil Sydney, who has established himself so firmly in New York theater-goers hearts this past year in the lead roles of "He who Gets Slapped" and "R. P. R." In giving us John Barrymore's "Hamlet" and his sister's "Juliet" in one season, Arthur Hopkins will have obligated the American public to him forevermore. I should say.

Even those who knew Lillian Russell well as an actress seldom knew her as an amateur art collector. Yet for twenty years, with remarkable discrimination and taste, she kept enlarging her Chinese collection, until now, disposed about four rooms of the New American Art Galleries, it is being admired by a public who never had heard of this off-stage interest of this beloved woman of the stage.

For the first time, a woman will head one of the state departments of New York. Moreover it will be a New York City woman, according to report. It is expected that Governor Smith will name Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, who was one of the active workers in his recent campaign.

NEW FARM ACCOUNT BOOK NOW READY FOR FARMERS.

Lexington, Ky. — The fifth annual edition of the Kentucky Farm Account Book, prepared by farm management specialists of the College of Agriculture, has just come off the press and is ready for distribution to farmers of the state. It has been announced here. Close to 3,000 of the books were distributed last year but it is expected that an even larger number of farmers in the state will keep records on their farm business during the coming year. With the exception of a few improvements suggested by farmers who have kept books, the new account book is similar to the one of last year and contains 40 pages. It provides space for inventories of the acreage and yield of crops, land, buildings, and fences, live stock, machinery, feeds, seeds and supplies, growing crops and winter plowing and a map of the farm. Space also is provided for recording the receipts and expenses of the farm business. The receipts are classified under six main heads while expenses are classified under twelve main heads.

Among the features provided in the book are a summary of the year's business, changes in the farm business suggested by the accounts, directions for finding the income from each kind of livestock, records of mortgages, notes and accounts, directions showing the farmer how to find his net worth, breeding records, farm notes, and the time, rate and method of seeding farm crops in Kentucky.

Among the reasons outlined in the book for keeping farm records are: 1.—Farm accounts furnish a simple means for determining the net income from the farm business for the year. 2.—A study of these records will show up the strong and weak points of the business and point the way to more profitable organization and management of the farm the following year. 3.—The book may be used in making out income tax returns. 4.—Farm records are helpful in establishing better loan relations between the banker and the farmer. Copies of the book may be obtained by sending 15 cents to the College of Agriculture at Lexington to cover the cost of printing and mailing.

BLEIVED NOT AFTER HIM, TRIED TO TAKE OWN LIFE.
Sheilville. — Suffering from the hallucination that a mob was after him and that he was to be burned at the stake although innocent of any crime, W. T. Satterfield, 67, tried to kill himself with a pocket knife to escape what he believed was impending torture. He was tried on a lunacy writ and committed to the Lakeland hospital.

$13,500 IN GEMS STOLEN.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Dec. 19.—City police and private detectives were notified late today of the theft of two diamond rings, valued at $13,500, from a tray in the jewelry store of H. Ratter-man, on Fourth street.Police suspect a man who represented himself as a diamond salesman. He entered the store Monday evening and after a conversation, during which a tray of diamond rings was displayed, he left. When Ratterman inspected the tray closely today, he discovered the loss of two diamond rings. One stone, weighing seven and three-quarter karats, was valued at $3,000, and the other at $5,500.

WEAK KIDNEYS
Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Pains of Maysville People.As one weak link weakens a chain, so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.
Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened,
the whole body suffers.
Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards dropsy, gravel or faint bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys.
No need to take the statement of someone living far away as evidence.
Here is a case right in this locality.
A. Corries, gun and locksmith, Aberdeen, Ohio, says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills leads me to recommend them strongly. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions contained sediment. I had backaches and when I stooped it was difficult to straighten again. Colds always settled on my back and kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they put a stop to the trouble."
OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mr.
Corries said: "I am the same strong believer in Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no trouble with my kidneys since recommending Doan's."
